Requirements Altered For Master's Degree

A new ruling changing the requirements for a master's degree in education at the University of Kentucky will go into effect for students registering for the 1949 summer session. Dr. Louis A. Pardue, dean of the Graduate School has announced.

Under this new arrangement candidates for the Master of Arts or Master of Sciences degree in Education must complete 30 semester hours of graduate courses with a minimum average standing of two, and must spend 36 weeks of study in residence. No thesis is required.

Formerly candidates were required to complete 36 semester hours and 45 weeks of work in residence, Dean Pardue said.

Registration Scheduled For Language Exams

Students interested in taking foreign language proficiency examinations must register in room 128, McVey Hall, before tomorrow.

The examinations required for all candidates for A.B. and B.S. degrees, will be given Monday and Tuesday.

The exams will be held from June 6 to July 16, and from August 1 to September 10.

Instructors will be Prof. R. E. Shaver, Prof. D. K. Blythe, Fred Curtis, graduate student, and Roger Stark, senior civil engineer.

Approximately 100 students will attend the camp.

Graduates May Apply For Army Commissions

The date for college graduates with previous military service to apply for Regular Army commissions has been extended to June 30.

The commission headquarters stated that the extension concerns military and civilian personnel with previous training in the armed forces.

More detailed information and application forms may be obtained from the recruiting station in Lexington or any Army headquarters in the state.

The more stringent regulation resulted from failure of the $5 fine to curb smoking.

Stiffer Penalties Set For Illegal Smoking

Stiffer penalties will be imposed on students who smoke in any of the buildings on the campus where "No Smoking" signs are displayed.

The new regulation passed by the Board of Trustees rules that students found smoking in any of the inflammable buildings will be suspended for one semester from classes held in that building.

University To Accept Negroes In Four Schools, Donovan Says

President Donovan said he interpreted Judge H. Church Ford's ruling as meaning that Negro students must be admitted to the University if the training they seek is not available at any state school for Negroes. Any Negro applicant for graduate or professional would be accepted, provided they qualify, Dr. Donovan said.

No distinction will be made between applicants who received their preliminary training from Kentucky State College at Frankfort and those who have received preliminary training from out-of-state institutions, he said.

Acceptance for the College of Engineering would require that Negro students complete one year's study in arts and sciences and general education, while entry in the law school requires a two-year preliminary course, Dr. Donovan explained.

In the Johnson case ruling several weeks ago, Judge Ford declared that Negroes must be admitted to the graduate and professional schools of the University until the state could provide separate schools of equal or substantially equal educational opportunity.

Judge Ford stated that the opinion did not affect the state's Day Law, which prohibits Negroes and white students from attending classes together. He said that segregation is not unconstitutional where equal opportunities are provided.

The official said that state aid to Negroes studying outside the state could be withdrawn because the University of Kentucky would furnish the required instruction.

Ex-Cowboy Professor Describes Life Of A Writer Of Histories

By George Reynolds

Edward Everett Dale, the ex-cowboy professor of history at the University of Oklahoma, has written more than a dozen books on "wet days and Sundays."

Combining a weak voice with a sharp wit, Mr. Dale spoke to student groups twice at Frazee Hall last week. He told of the rough trail from the plains of Texas where "the steak was so tough you couldn't stick a fork in the gravy."

The most important thing he learned through his experiences was, "You can learn to write, in the long run, only by writing." In that way, as the Westerner used to say, "The butter's strong, but the coffee's weak enough to bring up the general average."

He specializes in regional, historical and juvenile books, and recommends them as the best money-making ventures in the writing profession.

One of his texts, a history of the United States, has been used continually in Oklahoma schools for the last 20 years.

His career as a writer stemmed from lonesome nights under the western stars, when he had nothing to do except write poems—poems which were rejected by the first publishing house which read them.

New Career

After gaining an education at Oklahoma University, Mr. Dale spent some time at Harvard and returned to his adopted state to help found the Oklahoma State Folklore Association. The next summer, he hanged across endless Indian reservations in a Model T Ford gathering data on the Indians of the West.

During his career as a research professor at Oklahoma, he has trav-

Dr. Vandenberg added that other internationally known authorities and representatives of the Secretariat of the United Nations are expected to give public lectures and to participate in round table and panel discussions. Names of these speakers will be announced later.

Alms, Please

An irritating question that's still being batted around the campus is "Where do we get checks cashed?"

Several suggestions have come in for a student bank, to be organized in part to give the Student Government Association something to do.

This plan has several obvious weak points. Somebody would have to take the risk. Management would provide a big problem. The whole idea would be complicated, expensive, and perhaps out of reach.

Plenty of pros and cons could be brought up for the idea, but in the meantime, the question is still "Where do we get checks cashed?"

Surely some arrangement could be made to prevent cold checks at the Book Store, by requiring proper identification and by putting the clamps on offenders through the deans' offices.

Kentuckian Gets Congratulated

This year's Kentuckian staff deserves plenty of applause from everyone for the job they have done on the yearbook.

The amazing thing is that the book will go on distribution next week. For several years the Kentuckian has not been ready until mid-summer, and it has had to be mailed out, which was none too satisfactory.

Kernel staffers have gawked all year at the briskness and business-like dispatch of their neighbors, and the efficiency of the Kentuckian people is now paving off the dividends for themselves, the students, and the business office.

This year's Kentuckian editor and staff have set a pace that will be hard to match in succeeding years, and they deserve warm congratulations.

Exams Are Ominously Near

It's usually the custom about this time of year to give warning that everyone should begin studying—or is the phrase "reviewing"—for examinations.

But there's really no point in bringing it up. All we can suggest is that if you've got any new method for staying awake while cramming, pass it on to your friends and acquaintances. We could add such inspiring phrases as "Keep cool, this too shall pass even if you don't," and so forth, but what's the use?

Coronation Confusion

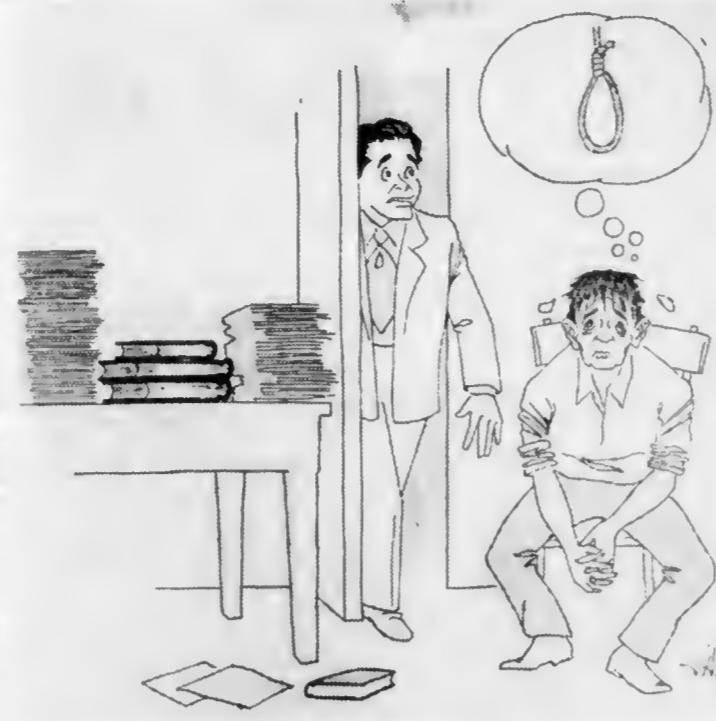

About the only thing that marred an otherwise typically successful May Day was the confusion at Stoll Field at the coronation.

A track meet had been set for the afternoon, and as usual, sports came first. Not only were the floats not presented on the field, but the grudging allotment of time for the coronation and the hurry surrounding it certainly detracted from May Day.

Strict No Smoking Penalties

The new Board of Trustees ruling that suspends any student for a semester from classes in the building where he was violating "No Smoking" regulations may seem somewhat severe at first glance.

But the students who were in inflammable old White Hall when it had a minor fire last week will probably take a second look at the Board's ruling and decide there's a point in it after all.

Typhoid Shots Available Free

With the river and the lake as popular as they are these days, it might not be a bad idea for students to drop around to the dispensary for a typhoid shot.

This service is free. Only one shot is required, and that might prove more than worth it some time this summer.

Cookin' With Gaskin

By Nancy Gaskin

I don't know about you all, but this spring weather is really cookin' Gaskin this week. This fact, combined with seventeen other people in my room playing bridge, talking, listening to the radio, drinking anything available (including water, when desperate), in various stages of exposure is responsible for this pliful attempt at humor. It's a rather weepy attempt, considering the humidity, but say no more....

My brain is throbbing. My head is bobbing. No sound — no weeping. No wonder — I'm sleeping. — The Diamondback, U. of Md.

From the I.U. Daily Student comes this sage remark in a report on the Kinsey report: "In the majority of instances, the population is getting around to the idea that sex is here to stay, and we might as well talk about it. The stork is losing prestige as a result."

Poor fella. Labor trouble is cutting the corner on his market, too.

The music-lover's battle cry: "Surge, Koussevitsky; or Who Drank Beethoven's Fifth?"

Alabama College gathered in Palmer Auditorium to discuss how to "get rid of" the $1200 they made in profits from their 1949 College Night performance. The meeting was called to order according to Roberts' Rules of Order.

There were several suggestions from various corners of the auditorium.

Finally came the vote, which was tabulated as follows: Honors Scholarship, 403; guest house (for visitors, 72; not voting, 50; burn it, 1) (probably from a Communist), and one ballot from a foreign student reading, "No understand." Fine vote.

The students then decided that hereafter Roberts' Rules of Disorder will be used in future meetings.

Whenever I go to a dance, I remember the words of my mother, "Always be nice to a homely boy. For he may have a good-looking brother."

And it is the same thing with early-morning professors who feel called upon to show from time to time in order to get the class attention. If they can't hold it to an interesting lecture they resort to treachery.

I can see maybe how they'd feel with their classes nodding in a kind of stupor, but must they resort to such methods?

You'd think they'd have a little humanistic consideration for a boy who's trying to sleep.

Yawningly yours,
J. F. and P. M.

Dear Editor:

Last week in your paper soon letter-writer wrote a long mea culpa about the pretty new fence in front of the Administration Building lawn.

How could he? Why, that fence is one of the brightest, bluest, prettiest, and newest gadgets around the campus. It just lifts a man's spirit to see it in the dazzling sun.

Who cares about the remaining grass anyhow? If that writer wishes to see grass I suggest he take a look at the Agriculture Farm.

What's wrong with the fence? It's sure a pretty thing.

CROWN THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

Frances White, University candidate for Queen of the Mountain Laurel Festival, poses informally for the photographer. The coronation of the queen is to take place Friday, May 27 at Pineville.

Pulchritudinous Intellect Seeks Mountain Laurel Queen Title

By Sarah I. Shaw

If any more evidence is needed to disprove the old saw about beauty and brains not mixing, an unbeatable exhibit A would be John Prinees White, UK's candidate for Mountain Laurel Festival Queen.

Frances, who will leave Wednesday for the Pineville festivities, has been chosen to compete with the top beauties from a dozen or so Kentucky colleges, and to balance this honor, she will be initiated Monday into Phi Beta Kappa.

Just to make the picture complete, she's also a member of Mortar Board, national women's leadership honorary.

Frances' candidate for the honor is selected by the Dean of Women, who chooses a girl who will bring credit to the University by her presence as being vice president of the Student Union Board, vice president of Panhellenic Council, and president of Delta Delta Delta social sorority.

Folks familiar with the usual festival agenda say it's a good thing Frances is used to being on the go here on campus, because the heavy schedule at Pineville would daunt a less hardy soul.

Busy Days Ahead

To begin with, when Frances arrives on Thursday she'll register, then attend movies of past festivals. After this there's a formal dinner, followed by a square dance at which all the candidates will be presented in alphabetical order.

The next morning there's a parade, followed by a luncheon, followed by the coronation. That night there are still some strong winds with a dance honoring the new queen and her court.

Saturday is billed as a light, easy day of relaxation. The candidates take it easy until morning coffee time, when they and their escorts assemble again to honor the queen at a breakfast. The rest of the day came from her father. She says nobody calls her John except "friends, morons, or both," but she doesn't mind it. It's been responsible for innumerable mix-ups, she admits, "but it always provides a topic for small talk when all else fails."

Frances' dignified appearance belies a weird sense of humor that leads her to play clarinet solos at unusual moments for the amusement of her friends at the Tri Delt house. She says she has no hobbies, but claims a vast collection of bottletops.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. White of Cadiz, Frances was graduated from Trigg County High School in 1945. She came to the University after a year at Peabody in Nashville.

She's scheduled to graduate in industrial personnel in two weeks, and says she can't think of any way she would rather wind up her college career than representing UK at the Mountain Laurel Festival.

Frances is very likely to do that. She's the tall (5'7"), statuesque type of beauty, with dark hair and eyes. She's extremely poised, gives the appearance of a great deal of dignity.

The Spice Of Life

By Jobie Anderson and George Tingle

Last weekend was a typical spring job...floats, formals, and sand in our clothes....what an act!

Sadie McConathy and Carolyn Critchlow really looked quite clever on the Sigma Nu float.

The Alpha Sig dance turned out to be tops...lots of Gibson gals steppin' around the Lafayette Ballroom.

The Delta dance was just plain knocked out. That two-hand idea was a honey, and many nice compliments were passed on decorations. The "Sheila" boys know how to turn out a party-party.

Margaret Yaeger and Andy Clark celebrated the DTD affair by getting pinned. She'll be in the family for a long time now.

Doug Martin seems to be squiring Leila Sherman. What happened to Barbara Willing?

Hoot Reichenbach was happy over accepting the Jewell Hall trophy for his Suky float. Fluff Hoot!

Charlie Whaley and Ruby Graham went celebrity-hounding last Wednesday night at Carmen Cavallero. Everybody was seeing a small splash of chartreuse that night!

Johnny Hines got a "surprise" when he found himself on the steps of the Baker funeral home Sunday morn. Glen Stokes almost made the down-town morgue too.

Phil Fritchard has set a new swimming record for the Sigma Nu fish pool. That's one way to cool off.

Cats Maul Vols Twice In Stoll Field Finale

The Kentucky Wildcats, leaders in the Eastern Division of the Southern Conference baseball race, added two more notches to Kentucky's lone tally in the sixth, their free-swinging bats downing Tennessee, 5-3 and 8-3, Friday and Saturday on Stoll Field.

The own-killing raised the Wildcat record to 11 victories against two defeats in overall competition, and their conference record to 10-2.

Ford Homers

Pitcher Ray Ford won his own game Friday, via a ninth-inning home run that broke a 4-4 tie. Ford went the route in winning his third SEC game against no defeats. Struck out in his first two times at bat, Ford tripped to center, in the sixth inning, but was out because he failed to touch first base.

Tennessee forced ahead 2-0 in the first inning and led 3-0 when Kentucky finally broke into the scoring column with one run in the third.

It was first baseman Dale Powell's consecutive homer in the first and fourth innings that gave the Vols all of their early runs.

The Cat added three runs in the fifth to lead 4-3, but the Vols tied it up in the sixth.

The score remained tied until Ford's last-inning four-bagger. The Cats outdid the Vols, 11-5. Hirsch, Hamilton, Ramsey and Ford getting two hits each.

Powell's two hits, both home runs, paced the Tennessee efforts.

Cats Win Second

In the Saturday fray, the Cats turned on their hitting prowess for an 8-3 victory over the undermanned, but game Vols. Among Kentucky's 13 hits were four-masters by Dick Ramsey and Walt Hirsch.

The visitors got to starter Ray Mignerey for three runs in the second, but the masterful righthander handcuffed them the remaining seven innings on just two hits, one a fluke safety to rightfield that took a crazy hop over Hirsch's head. It was Mignerey's fourth conference win without a loss.

The Cats hopped on Tennessee's Ira Pierce for five runs in the third,

The semifinals of the IM softball tournament will be held this afternoon on the field behind the Student Union, weather permitting.

The winner of the LXA-SN game yesterday will meet at 4 p.m., the survivor of the Breck Hall vs. Scott Street Barracks tilt, which was also played yesterday after the deadline for Kernel copy.

In the other bracket, Kinhead Hall will take on the winner of the SAE-LX-A game at 5 p.m. today.

Pitchers Have Hot Week

During the past several days, the IM pitchers have really come into their own. Two no-hitters were turned in this week.

Al Pracht, of the Scott Barracks, turned in one of them against the Kappa Sig's, as his team won 3-0, to advance into the quarterfinals.

Ray Zimmerman, Kinhead Hall's swift southpaw, hurled the second no-hitter contest on Tuesday against the Triangles. In this game, Out-Gelder Don (Juan) Hahn clouted a home run in the final inning to win for Kinhead Hall, 1-0, and the only hit of the game. Neil Jones, despite his one-hitter, was the losing moundsman for the Triangles.

Gene McMurray, of the Sig Eps, did all right for himself as he blanked the Phi Delt's, 3-0, allowed the losers only one safety for the five-inning conflict.

Fred Lawson, of the Breck Hall aggregation, continued his fine pitching and allowed the Pi Kaps just three hits and one run as the

Dorms Have Strong Teams

Doc Wall's two entries, Kinhead and Breck Halls, are ranked up high as favorites to meet in the finals. That is if the Breck team was able to get past the much-improved Scott Street Barracks 10.

Kinhead Hall eliminated SAE on Wednesday and should be meeting the Sig Eps (SPE) today, as the latter team was a definite favorite to beat the Eagles yesterday in the quarterfinals. The Sig Eps, with Gene McMurray, have a well-balanced team but seem to lack the hitting power of Kinhead and Breck. They are the strongest of the frat teams.

Sigma Nu met Lambda Chi yesterday, and the winner is definitely ranked as underdog in the tournament.

Finals are slated for Monday afternoon.

Dis Kentucky Sports Review

—By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

Regardless of the outcome of the Kentucky Wildcat baseball games this week with the Georgia Bulldogs and the Tennessee Volunteers, this season has been a good one for the Big Blue. Their record is the best compiled by a Kentucky baseball team in many years.

The squad's batting average is a healthy .296. Going into this recent series, Dom Fucci was leading the team in individual batting with a mighty .462 average with 14 hits for 29 attempts.

Alan Hamilton is next with .377, while Dick Ramsey and Ben Zaranka had .368. Walt Hirsch was carrying a .350 mark, while John Slough had a .332 mark and Jay Cummins completed the select group with an even .300.

In home runs, Hirsch and Ramsey held the tops with four each, while Fucci pounded out three. For the all-important RBI (runs batted in), it was a five-man race, among Ramsey (16); Hamilton (15); Hirsch and Fucci (14 each); and Stough (10).

Ramsey is leading in triples (with five) and doubles (three) and tied with Hirsch for the highest number of hits (21).

In stealing bases, Hirsch (12) and Stough (11) are tops for the club.

The Olympians game Wednesday night with the Western Kentucky All-Stars on the Lexington Trotting Track should be a terrific game. We were fortunate enough to see the first meeting of these two teams last April in Louisville's Armory and without a doubt it was one of the best we have ever seen, despite the rather large difference in the final score (80-65, Olympians on top).

Very probably, it will be Alex Groza versus Jack Kerris; Ralph Beard versus Dee Gibson; and Wah Jones versus Jack Coleman, which should be worth the price of admission alone.

In the other two meetings, the weakest spot for the Western team was the pivot spot. None of their men, which included Towery, Spears, and McKinney, were able to hold down the high-scoring Groza.

But this time it might be a little different with Kerris. Big Alex is probably anxious to battle the ex-Loyola star again. We don't think Groza will be outscored by Kerris this time.

Before leaving this topic, we would like to clear up a few misunderstandings that students might have acquired by reading Larry Shropshire's column Down In Front this past week, in The Lexington Leader.

The UK track team ended its dual competition last Saturday afternoon by defeating the University of Louisville, 67½ to 54½, on Stoll Field. Three Wildcat hurdlers are shown above competing against the visiting Cardinals. They are, left to right, GUY WEEKS, TONY DALLAS, and DALE BARNSTABLE. The Cat cinder team will end the season this weekend in the annual SEC meet at Birmingham.

Trackmen Defeat Louisville, 67-54 On Stoll Field

By Earl L. Conn

Kentucky's Wildeats ended their dual competition for the 1949 season last Saturday by whipping the University of Louisville 67 1/2 to 54 1/2.

The Cats' record for the year is three wins against only one defeat—at the hands of Tennessee.

However, Kentucky was rather hard pressed in gaining their third win. They had to depend upon the field events as the Cardinals from Louisville won the track events 40 to 37.

The Wildcats' strength in the track events came almost entirely from the dashes and the hurdle events. Johnny Melhaus captured both the century dash and the 220. Then the Cats made grand slams in the hurdle runs with Tony Dallas, Guy Weeks, and Dale Barnstable finishing 1-2-3 in the highs and Weeks edging out Dallas with Barnstable again third in the lows.

Dallas Leads With 18
Captain Dallas also captured firsts in the high jump and the broad jump to lead the Cats with 18 points. Melhaus garnered 13 points with his two firsts in the dashes and a second in the broad jump.

Brewster won the pole vault for Kentucky with Distler second. Frank Smotherman won the shot put and finished second in the discus while Gunsten was second to Smotherman in the shot put.

Louisville's Rudolph showed the way in the 880-yard run and the mile for the Cardinals. Noel

Louisville won the two-mile run and was second in the mile run.

The Cardinal mile relay team won that event while Louisville's

Boekman won the 440-yard dash.

The Wildcats hold dual meet wins over the University of Cincinnati, Vanderbilt, and Louisville during the year while losing to Tennessee. The meet Saturday was Louisville's second loss in seven outings, losing their first one to the Bollermakers of Purdue.
